Open Fruits

Souring/Fermenting	 A single fig is shown split open, revealing its internal structure. The flesh is dark and appears to be fermenting or souring, with a high concentration of small, dark seeds visible throughout the pulp.

Insect Damage

Mould/Black Mould
